2. DuraSpace is an independent 501(c)(3) not-for-profit organization providing leadership and innovation for open technologies that promote durable, persistent access to digital data. DuraSpace serves as an organizational steward for the Hydra and Sufia software ("Projects"), an inter-institutional collaboration that provides an open source framework for a multi-function, multi-purpose repository.
3. Projects provides unique and significant opportunities for University because, among other things, it provides a robust system for broad web-based access to files and supports management and dissemination of digital content at considerably lower costs than "closed source," proprietary solutions. 5. University intends to participate in Projects by, among other things, developing enhancements and other modifications to the Projects. In doing so, University, through its staff members, will create and contribute copyrightable works of authorship ("Works") to Projects. 6. University warrants that: (a) it is and will be the owner of the copyrights in the Works; (b) its ownership interest is and will be unencumbered; and (c) it has the full and lawful right to assign and convey the copyrights in the Works.
7. In order for University to participate in Projects, University has determined that it will assign its copyrights in the Works to DuraSpace.
8. University has determined that participating in Projects furthers its educational and scientific purposes and that assigning the copyrights in the Works to DuraSpace is in University's best interests.

In consideration of the benefits to University in participating in Projects (as described above) and for other consideration, University hereby assigns to DuraSpace, all of its rights, title and interest in the copyrights to the Works. This assignment applies to DuraSpace, its successors and assigns, for and during the existence of the Works' copyrights and all renewals and extensions thereof.
