(Item 8) CD03 and Public Review 02

Dave: No comments received on the CD03 candidate document

Ashok: One concern. I found duplicate normative statements when working on the TAs

Dave: Do we think that we can get thru the test assertions in the next couple of weeks?

Ashok: Yes.

Dave: So we suggest on holding off on CD03 until we complete the TAs

- since there will be an update to the CD resulting from the TA work

Latest email about this:

<http://lists.oasis-open.org/archives/sca-policy/201004/msg00019.html>

Item a) in email: POL40013 & POL40026 were correctly removed from the spec

ACTION 20100419-01: (Ashok) Remove TA 40019 & TA 40034

Item b)

Ashok: POL40018 & POL40029 appear to overlap

- we should remove one of them

EricW: We should keep both in case the redeployment API's are available in future
<Discussion of the relative meanings of POL40018, POL40029>

Mike: Problem is that POL40029 depends on having a redeployment API, and we don't have one (at least a standard one) which means we can't write testcases

Item c) POL40034 & POL40028 appear to overlap

Dave: I think that POL40028 must be deleted

EricW: Possibly add a note to the testcase for POL40029 as untestable but maybe in future

ACTION 20100419-02: (Dave) Raise an issue to removed POL40028 from the spec

Dave - that finishes the comments against the spec - the rest are against the TA document

Ashok: for TA-40042 to TA-40045 - is it reasonable to have the SCA Domain as the target?

Mike: It is better to have TAs work on more specific things - like a particular component deployed in the Domain, that as some intent and/or some policySet attached to it, and then the intent or policySet gets redeployed

Mike: Of course we can't actually write testcases for any of these since we dont have a required redeployment API

Point e) from email:

POL-TA-90034

Dave: Should follow the pattern in POL-TA-90020 - more prereqs required

Ashok: I'll rework the TAs document to try and deal with these.
